

School management and Social Inclusion

You are invited to a European seminar about School management and Social Inclusion. The seminar is the final conference of the SPISEY project, which is an ERASMUS + project that supports the development of inclusive schools and inclusive education in the EU.

The European Inclusion Compass

The SPISEY project has developed the European Inclusion Compass, which is a strategic process model with a facilitating toolbox that can be used by school managers in their work to create inclusive school environments with room for all children and youth.

The project has worked with pilot educational institutions in 5 countries and some of them will be present at the conference to talk about their practical experiences with the European Inclusion Compass.

The SPISEY partners will present the European Inclusion Compass and the facilitation toolbox and experts within the field will bring the newest European knowledge and experiences to the audience.

Project memory from meeting in Finland

Venue: South Denmark European Office
Avenue Palmerston 18, 1000 Brussels
Wednesday the 8th of June

Register to:

<mailto:info@southdenmark.be>

A limited number of funded places are available, and registration is free of charge.

AGENDA

Time	Theme
09:00 – 09:15	Registration and coffee
09:15 – 09:45	Welcome to the SPISEY Final Conference Presentation of the SPISEY Project, The European Inclusion Compass and the Facilitating Toolbox, by Christian Quvang, Project manager, University College South Denmark and Henriette Hansen, Project co-ordinator, South Denmark European Office
09:45 – 10:45	School management and social inclusion <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) What are the challenges for school management?, by Petra Van Haren, Director European School Heads Association 2) Working with the European Inclusion Compass as a school manager, by Manoli Pifarre from Lleida University (Tbc) 3) Engaging the school board in discussions about social inclusion, by Christian Quvang, UCS
10:45 – 11:00	Coffee break offered by the SPISEY Project
11:00 – 12:00	Inclusion from a student perspective <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Towards a child-friendly and inclusive school, by Kati Turtiainen, Jyvaskyla University, Finland 2) Social inclusion seen from a student perspective, what does it mean for us and why is it important? By xxxxx, Obussu (European Student Association) 3) Using the European Inclusion Compass on University level, by George Koutsouris, Exeter University
12:00 – 13:00	Lunch offered by the SPISEY Project
13:00 – 14:00	Lifelong Learning, Social Inclusion and collaboration with civil society <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) From a European perspective, by Pauline Boivin, Policy Officer Lifelong Learning Platform 2) From a local perspective, by XXXX, Ligeværd (Denmark) 3) The inclusive school as an active part of the local community, by Elfi Casanava-Cheyne, Canopé 42, St. Etienne
14:00 – 14:45	European Inclusion Compass Playground - Concrete exercises and collaboration with the participants
14:45 – 15:00	Coffee break and Networking
15:00 – 16:00	Panel discussion with the speakers of the day, facilitated by Henriette Hansen
16:00 – 16:30	Summing up from the day, open discussion and evaluation, by Christian Quvang, Project manager, University College Southdenmark and Henriette Hansen, Project co-ordinator, South Denmark European Office
16:30 – 17:30	Networking Reception offered by the SPISEY project

For more information on the SPISEY project visit the website on <https://spisey.southdenmark.eu/>